TROOPS IN DENVER STREETS

Force Was Not Used by the Governor as Threatened.

Deposed Police and Fire Commissioners Refused to Yield - City Hall Menaced-Arrival of the Regulars.

The threatened outbreak at Denver did not take place yesterday afternoon. The first regiment of the National Guard of the state was under arms all the afternoon, but no movement was made. Their pos!tion commanded the entire front of the hall, and at one time the militia was under motion to attack the hall, when the arrival of Secretary Lorenz, with a message from the governor, stayed the attack. This was for a delay to permit another conference looking toward a peaceful settlement. At 6 o'clock the intelligence that the governor had called upon Gen. McCook to preserve the peace settled all fears of a contest between the militia and the police, backed by as fearless a lot of deputies, sworn in by the sheriff, as could be possibly gathered together.

The militia was sent back to the armory, and at 9 o'clock Gen. McCook ordered the troops to bivouac at the depot until morning. He nas held a conference with Gov. Waite, at which Adjt. Gen. Artillery arrived at the city hall at 3 o'clock and Gen. Brooks, commanding officer, de-livered to Police Lieutenant Clay, in command outside the city hall, a message to the effect that if the removed police commissioners did not vacate within half an hour the offices would be taken by force. Orr and Martin refused to surrender.

"Had one of my officers given an order to fire," said Gen. Brooks last night, "he would have been riddled with bullets from the crowd, and then I would have had to sweep both sides of the street with my gatling cannon. However, the mob made no such act necessary, and there was no blood shed."

On the governor's representation that the state militia would probably be inade-quate to cope with the mob, that had full possession of the city, Gen. McCook called out the United States infantry from Ford Logan, thirteen miles from Denver, to act in conjunction with the state and local au thorities. The troops arrived about 8:30, the scene of action was the result of a conference between Gov. Waite and Adjutant General Tarsney, at which it was decided that it would be impossible to take the city hall with the force at hand without greater unnecessary loss of life.

An Emergency Hospital Badly, Wanted by Citizens-The Old Station House Asked for.

tonians. Thomas L. Cropley sold to Frederick A. Tschiffely, jr., for $8,000 part of lot 18, square 37, being improved property on the north side of M street near Potomac; arrested Eugene Leonard, a colored boy of Randall Hagner and J. Holdsworth Gordon et al., trustees, deeded to H. Bradley Davidson for $6,820 parts of lots 281 and 282, Beall's addition to Georgetown, and the latter transferred at the same time lots 293 to 301 in Bradley Davidson's sub of 99 to Geo. S. Cooper. Georgetown real estate agents and those who do a business in Washington, too, yet who reside here, are jubilant as to the spring prospects. Building operations have already begun with a will and the construction of several railroads before the summer months set in

is now assured.

The old police station, which was originally bought by the corporation of George town and not out of the general District fund, is still lying vacant and useless, and every day contributes to its destruction. in the meantime the citizens are advocating, informally, but with interest and earnestness, the use of the place as a local emergency hospital. Should the property be sold, Georgetown's portion of the pro-ceeds, which would be turned into the District treasury, would be so insignificant that nothing could be done with it. Many accidents of a langerous nature happen up at the quarries on the Potomac, on the coal wharves, canal boats and power houses surrounding the town, and, under the present conditions, the victims are hauled for several miles over the public streets in an open patrol wagon, and often the jarring contributes in a large measure to the misery of the unfortunates. The estab-lishment of a local emergeacy hospital would not only do much toward the com-fort of the injured and those taken sudden-ly sick, but in many cases its presence in the midst of the townspeople would obviate the call for the patrol wagon often when it is wanted for the usual police duty, as patients could be carried there on stretch-ers. Five hundred dollars, citizens say, would fix the place up suitable for hospital purposes, and if the Commissioners grant the citizens the right to use it for hospital its who will pledge themselves to raise by subscription and otherwise this amount. Several physicians have stated that they vill contribute their professional service to the cause, and others of kind heart will facilitate it in various ways. Georgetown is desirous, heart and soul, of turning the place into a hospital. Never was a project so unanimously favored as this.

AFFAIRS IN GEORGETOWN the owner of that property, is favorably disposed toward the road, and will, no doubt, help its construction along. Policy Players.

Policy "promoters" have begun to appear in town and work their little game. The police say they will work theirs pretty seon. While they have not secured conclusive evidence against the lawbreakers, they know who they are, and will, no doubt, be able shortly to make a "swoop."
There are not only dozens, but scores of persons, white, colored, male and female, who drum up trade for these policy concerns having branches in Rosslyn. They Yesterday over $17,000 worth of George-town property was bought up by investors. Half of it was purchased by Washing-tonians. Thomas L. Cropley sold to Fredhave apparently decided to again go in the business at the old stand, the police having of late relaxed their watchfulness. There is no policy writing done in town, all feel certain, but that the game is being steadily promoted here all wide-awake people agree.

Cross Cotton Seed Cleaning.

The Cross cotton-seed cleaning machine which several Georgetown gentlemen are interested, is to be put in active operation here, a permit being issued yesterday to erect a suitable structure in which to cperate it. The building will be put up on Prospect avenue near High, and furnished with power from the Georgetown and Tenleytown railroad through means of wires connected at 32d and Prospect avenue. Mr. Joseph Schladt is president of the Cross Cotton Machine Company.

GREAT CHESS PLAYING.

Lasker and Steinits Begin Thei Series for the Championship. The first game in the chess match, ten games up, for $2,000 and the championship of the world, between W. Steinitz and Emanuel Lasker, was played yesterday at the Union Square Hotel, New York. Lasker won the toss, whereupon he opened with a Ruy Lopez. He obtained a good attack, which, however, petered out, and at the time of recess Steinitz had the superior position. In the evening session Steinitz, by error on his forty-fifth move, lost a pawn. Lasker later on won a rook for knight and pawn, being thus a clear exchange ahead. The game will be finished today. Steinits has still chances for a draw

The New Road to the Bay.

Col. L. H. Hyer, chief engineer of the Washington and Chesapeake Railroad Company, now in course of construction, reached Marlboro', Md., yesterday afternoon from the bay. The road now being pushed extends from Magruder Station, on the Baltimore and Potomac railroad near Landover, to Chesapeake bay, a distance of thirty miles. Yesterday Messrs. Cogan & Co. began the work of excavation at Magruder's. There are at present 360 hands engaged in the construction of the road, and twenty-two cuts are now open in order to have the road in operation at an early date. The bridge over the Patuxent river will cost $12,000, and the iron has been shipped for it. At the beach on the bay a 150-foot pler has been completed.
